Start Saving Early... Start Now

Retirement planning isn't something that should wait until you are ready to retire. By taking steps now, you can work to maximize your benefit opportunities and secure your future without having to "play catch up" later on. Whether you are just starting your administrative career or are in the middle of it, you should be aware of the opportunities that are available to you and craft a plan that will lead to success. Topics for discussion will include pension forecasting, savings strategies, and balancing short term income needs versus long term planning.

AXA Advisors specializes in working with New York State employees, helping them to get the most out of their NYS benefits. AXA will provide specific information on understanding the true value of your NYS Pension, protecting your pension during your working years, how to maximize your 403(b) retirement investments, and making the most of your contract benefits.
