

LONG ISLAND SCHOOL LEADERS

Workshop SERIES

Whether you actually are a new leader during this crazy time, or just feeling that way, you won't want to miss this two-part series designed specifically for Long Island school leaders like you. You can expect two engaging, convenient, and informative sessions that address the challenges you are facing – leaving you feeling hopeful and supported.

Facing Challenges

IN THE CURRENT ENVIRONMENT

SESSION 1 | 4-5 PM | FEBRUARY 25

CINDY
GALLAGHER

TOM PAYTON

This session will feature Dr. Cindy Gallagher, SAANYS director of government relations, who will share the most up-to-date NYS and NYSED information on the status of schools in your region with regard to zones, testing, vaccinations, and more. We will also welcome your colleague, Tom Payton, principal, Roanoke Avenue Elementary School, and NAESP Board of Directors, Zone 2. This session will feature your comments, questions, and perspectives as well as those of our guests.

Mindset Matters

DEVELOPING A COPING STRATEGY THAT WORKS FOR YOU

SESSION 2 | 4-5 PM | MARCH 4

JOSEPH FANTIGROSSI

FELICIA
THOMAS-
WILLIAMS

This session focuses on supporting you by providing strategies and mindset shifts for coping with current challenges. You can't do it all, and you don't have to. Learn to release the pressure with a healthier outlook and approach to the day-to-day stress. We welcome Dr. Joseph Fantigrossi, director of the Finger Lakes Resiliency Network and director of intervention and professional development for Finger Lakes Community Schools, as well as Felicia Thomas-Williams, principal of West Middle School in Brentwood, and SAANYS Secondary Principal of the Year and NASSP NYS 2020 Principal of the Year.
