EIGHT WEEKS IN: Update From The Field

The 2021-2022 school year is now well underway. Take a minute, take a breath, and pat yourself on the back for navigating a third school year of disruption, unpredictability, and turmoil, not only behind your school doors but in the communities that surround them.

Each of the past three years has been different from the last, demanding new things of you as school leaders and presenting you with unique challenges (and some unexpected silver linings) that you may have never imagined "BC."

This year, we continue our SAANYS CONNECT panels to give you opportunities to connect with colleagues around the state to commiserate, learn, and share not only the challenges, but what we are learning along the way that we can share with one another. As in past panels, resources and actual tools that other schools are currently using will be made available to you.

Don't miss this kickoff of our "Update from the Field" series on October 28, featuring:

DR. CYNTHIA GALLAGHER

Director of Government Relations, SAANYS

JENNIFER CARLSON

SAANYS Deputy General Counsel

HARRY LEONARDATOS

Principal, Clarkstown High School North and incoming SAANYS President

MICHELLE FEYERABEND

Assistant Superintendent, Chenango Valley CSD

DR. CHIEF J. TAYLOR

Assistant Principal, Freshman Center, Brentwood

RICHARD DELISLE

Moderated by Karen Bronson, SAANYS Director of Professional Learning
